CACAOINE.

Cacaoine is a preparation of Cacao without sugar or any admixture whatever.

Cacaoine is very acceptable as a light refreshing drink for use in the latter hours of the day. With Homoeopaths it takes the place of Tea, having very little consistence—not more than that of Coffee.

Cacaoine, to those who have been in the habit of using Cacao Nibs, has proved a great boon, as it does away with all the trouble attending the preparation of Nibs—Cacaoine itself being nothing more than pure choice Nibs that have been submitted to a very ingenious process, by which the principal part of the oil has been removed. This scientific removal of the oil renders the beverage preparable from Cacaoine incomparably more delicate and attractive than any that the crude Nibs afford, besides that Cacaoine requires but to be boiled for a few minutes to be ready for the table.

MOODY AND SANKEY.

AMERICAN ORGANS in every variety of
CRAMER'S Manufacture and on CRAMER'S
Three Years System.

Prices from 15 Guineas, or £1 11s. 6d. a Quarter.

CRAMER and Co. by no means wish it to be understood, as in some quarters it would seem to have been, that their AMERICAN ORGANS are used by Messrs. Moody and Sankey at their interesting meetings.

CRAMER'S instruments are much more solid in manufacture, and infinitely superior in quality of tone, and are certainly not open to the objection made by perhaps the most influential literary and musical journal to the imported organs:—

"Judged from the artistic point of view, the instrument is no more agreeable to the ear than is the stentorian power displayed by the singer."

Moreover, while CRAMER'S AMERICAN ORGANS are more satisfactorily made, and better finished in all respects, they are sold at prices varying from 15 to 25 per cent. below those of all imported instruments.

These, and all other instruments of CRAMER'S manufacture, can be had on the three years system, which, originated by CRAMER'S, has been partially adopted by other firms, but is carried out on a thoroughly large and liberal scale only by themselves.

TWENTIETH THOUSAND.

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH PEOPLE.

By JOHN RICHARD GREEN, M.A.

With Coloured Maps, Genealogical Tables, and Chronological

Annals.

Crown 8vo, 8s. 6d.

"We know of no record of the whole drama of English history to be compared with it. We know of none that is so distinctly a work of genius.... Mr. Green's volume is a really wonderful production. There is a freshness and originality breathing from one end to the other, a charm of style, and a power, both narrative and descriptive, which lifts it altogether out of the class of books to which at first sight it might seem to belong. The range, too, of subject, and the capacity which the writer shows of dealing with so many different sides of English history, witness to powers of no common order. And with all this Mr. Green shows throughout that he is on all points up to the last lights, that he has made himself thoroughly master both of original authorities and of their modern interpreters.... The Early History is admirably done; the clear and full narrative which Mr. Green is able to put together of the earliest days of the English people is a wonderful contrast to the confused and pre-scientific talk so common in most of the books which it is to be hoped that Mr. Green's volume will displace."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"To say that Mr. Green's book is better than those which have preceded it, would be to convey a very inadequate impression of its merits. It stands alone as the one general history of the country, for the sake of which all others, if young and old are wise, will be speedily and surely set aside. It is perhaps the highest praise that can be given to it, that it is impossible to discover whether it was intended for the young or for the old. The size and general look of the book, its vividness of narration, and its avoidance of abstruse argument, would place it among school books; but its fresh and original views, and its general historical power, are only to be appreciated by those who have tried their own hand at writing history, and who know the enormous difficulties of the task."—MR. SAMUEL R. GARDNER, in the Academy.

"The history of Mr. Green will be found an able guide to every student of history through the latest as well as the earlier portions of the political and social life of England; and what we admire most of all is the enthusiasm with which, faithful to his principle of peaceful progress and internal development, he resists the fascination of the shows of outward life, and traces with abounding skill and knowledge the social, moral, material, and literary life of each period."—Times.

"It is simply the ideal history which we have been looking for since ever we knew what history was—the simple, straightforward, rapid narrative, clear and strong and uninterrupted as a vigorous river, carrying you on with it in an interest too genuine and real to leave you any time to think of style—yet with a style which is perfectly adapted to the purpose, neither florid nor rigid, neither ornamental nor austere, but far better than either, unconscious, like the voice of a man who has so much to say that he entirely forgets how he is saying it—a grand condition of natural eloquence."—Blackwood's Magazine.

STUDIES FROM NATURE.

FOUR PERMANENT PHOTOGRAPHIC PLATES.

WITH DESCRIPTIVE LETTER-PRESS

By STEPHEN THOMPSON.

EXTRACT FROM PROSPECTUS.

In the preparation of the forthcoming series of "Studies from Nature," a twofold purpose has been kept in view. In the first place it is intended that each Part shall be complete in itself, possessing, as such, its full value separately and alone. At the same time, by means of a diversified arrangement of subjects, the Series collectively will possess a distinct value as a Complete Work, equally attractive to the artist, the student of nature, and the general public; containing—as it will do—examples of almost every phase of the beauties of Nature.

In the wide domain of Nature—"Nature, in all her infinite variety"—there is no scarcity of subjects, and it is intended that these studies shall comprise scenes from many of the most beautiful districts, both at home and abroad, in their more pictorial aspects. The work will contain examples of Forest Scenery—Coast Scenery—River Scenery—Old Elizabethan Homesteads—Green Lanes—Woodland Paths—and other rural scenes. Also various "foreground" studies—ferns, foxgloves, moss-covered rocks, &c. Also the pictorial aspects of old Continental cities—scenery in Normandy, Holland, and the less-known Italian Alps, and some portions of the Pyrenees.

While such are the subjects proposed, the means are more special, and the objects hitherto unachieved. In this work will be presented renderings of Nature in her more mobile forms.

The Pictures will be printed by a permanent process, and the price of each Part (4s. 6d.) will be less than half that usually given for plates of the same size and nature.

PART I. contains:—

1. A BEECHEN SLOPE, KNOLLE.
2. SUMMER-TIME, PENSHURST PARK.
3. THE MONARCH OF THE WOODS.
4. THE OLD PIER, LYNNMOUTH.

NEW NOVEL by ANTHONY TROLLOPE.

The WAY WE LIVE NOW. By ANTHONY TROLLOPE. With Forty Illustrations. 2 vols. demy 8vo, 21s.

From the Times, August 21, 1875.

"The Way we Live Now" is only too faithful a portrait of the manners and customs of the English at the latter part of the nineteenth century. Mr. Trollope's hand has not lost its cunning, nor his mind its habit of just observation. In conclusion, it may fairly be declared that this is one of Mr. Trollope's very best stories, and that it ought to accomplish more good in its generation than its ostensible mission of merely amusing or interesting its readers."

SIGNA: A STORY. By Ouida. 3 vols. crown 8vo, 31s. 6d.

From the Spectator.

"Not only does the interest of the tale never flag, but there is scarcely a page which does not contain either some fine bit of description of animate or inanimate nature, some clever touch which shows how thoroughly she understands Italian men of the class she has undertaken to portray, or some scrap of prose poetry in a reminiscence of times gone by, or a peep into the art-world of the present day. 'Signa' is a poetic, and at the same time an inexpressibly saddening story."

NEW NOVEL by T. A. TROLLOPE.

HOW TO SELECT AN OFFICE for LIFE ASSURANCE.

Extract from Board of Trade's Report, July 2, 1874.

"Taking Insurance business as it exists in this country, the Public cannot be misled if, when seeking an Office in which to effect an Insurance, they select one which transacts its business at a small percentage of working cost, and does not anticipate its profits."

THESE TESTS ARE ENTIRELY FULFILLED BY THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY, the Report itself showing that of all the English Provincial Offices and all the Scotch Offices, the Royal's Ratio of Expenses to its Premium Income is the Lowest, and the Company have never anticipated a Single Shilling of Profit.

Extract from "The Times" of July 24, 1874.

"On the whole, it would be safe for the Father of a Family, contemplating the Insurance of his Life, to select one of the Offices with a Large Life Fund, a Small Expenditure on Management, and a Rate of Interest ranging from 4·2 to 4·5 per cent."

"THE ROYAL"

ENTIRELY MEETS THE WHOLE OF THESE REQUIREMENTS.

Its Life Fund is close upon Two Millions Sterling; its Expenses are Lower than those of any other English Provincial Office, and of any Scotch Office; and its rate of Interest is 4·4 per cent.
